

Town Meeting tonight

The expected dud of a town meeting, tonight, has a new approach, and there might possibly be even an overflow crowd.

Attorney Kenneth Busa of Woburn has mailed letters, possibly to every family in Wilmington. Enclosed is a 'demand petition' saying that the "Wilmington Voting Taxpayer have the right to ask any questions they may choose to", and further, demanding that the town officials answer the questions. The wording possibly may not be grammatical, but the intent seems to be clear. Mr. Busa seems to be hoping that there will be many persons, asking many questions.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 pm in the Barrows Auditorium of the High School.

Until Tuesday it was doubtful if there would be a quorum (150 voters). Now there well may be.

The warrant, as it was submitted, gives no one the right to vote on anything relating to the dump - only to talk about it. Any talk, of course, will be under the interpretation given by Town Moderator John Callan. Mr. Callan has been absent from Wilmington, but is expected home today.

Wilmington's Board of Selectmen, at the time they issued the call for the special town meeting also published a notice saying that there would be a meeting of the board, tonight at 7:45 in the Barrows Auditorium. They are thus in a position to discuss, officially, any problem they may choose to discuss.

The Wilmington Planning Board has put itself into a similar position. Tuesday night the board decided to recess until 7:45 tonight, in the Barrow Auditorium. That board, too, will be in a position to discuss any item officially.

Only four members of the Planning Board will be present, tonight.

It's now Major Kaminski

Michael S. Kaminski of 23 Fairmeadow Rd., Wilmington has had his photo in the Town Crier on several occasions. The first was when he attained the rank of Eagle Scout, and the last when he was given a special commendation at Norwich University, in Northfield, Vermont, where Michael is a cadet.

No picture has arrived yet, but Cadet Kaminski is now Cadet Major Michael S. Kaminski, of the Class of 1977. The recently awarded promotion is in recognition of his leadership qualities, and his proficiency in academic studies. He is on the Dean's list, in the University, for the second semester of the past year.

Doctor's office on Main Street

Five hundred Main Street, Wilmington where, at the present time gravel is being spread, is to become a doctor's office.

A plan has been filed with the Planning Board, showing that there will be parking for 21 cars in front of the office, in a lot at the corner of Main Street and Dublin Avenue. The entrance to the parking lot will be off Dublin Avenue, and the exit will be to Main Street, near the Firestone Store.

Vandalism and arson

Four plate glass windows were broken, in the North Wilmington Shopping Center, over the weekend.

Fourteen dumpsters, trash collectors for commercial or business firms and schools were set on fire.

It was almost a quiet weekend.

Can the Board of Appeals approve of a subdivision?

The Wilmington Board of Appeals has approved of the division of a lot of land into two lots of land. The case was heard on May 25 and it involved land on the north side of Middlesex Avenue, about opposite Federal Street. The approval turned out to be quite controversial.

Zoning in that area calls for 125 foot frontages. In this case the Appeals Board approved of frontages of 91.50 feet and 91.80 feet, or approximately 75 per cent of the required frontage. There is no set rule, but many of the cases of which the board has approved in the past, were in the neighborhood of 90 per cent.

The land in question drops off sharply, into an old gravel pit of half a century ago, and then, eventually, into wet land. There are still a few persons in Wilmington who remember the man who operated that pit - Mundy Babine.

Arthur Harding, former chairman of the Wilmington Planning Board argued, Tuesday evening, that the Wilmington Board of Appeals had no right to decide on a division of the land in question.

There were two points, at least, to Harding's arguments. He said that the result was a sub-division of land, and only a Planning Board has a right to subdivide land. He also said there was a variance on the length of a front lot line, and in order to issue such a variance there has to be a Zoning Board of Appeals - which the Wilmington board is not. The Wilmington board is one that can issue a variance from a ruling by the Building Inspector.

Harding was alone in his vote, and often in his arguments, but the other members of the planning board agreed with much he had to say.

Harding also said that he was doubly surprised at the decision because of the location of the land.

HARDING VOTES ALONE: Arthur Harding, at the beginning of the long discussion, was the sole person to vote in favor of a motion which would put the disputed plan under the jurisdiction of the Planning Board.

There will probably be two driveways, coming out of a hole (the land is low, Ec.) and onto a heavily traveled way - come out, and swing left and have an accident, Harding said.

That corner, Federal Street and Middlesex Avenue, Harding stated, has more accidents than any other in Wilmington.

Harding argued that there are only two references in the Planning and Sub-Division Control legislation which refer to the authority of the Board of Appeals. Nowhere, he said, are broad powers given to an appeal board.

A community with an Official Map, such as Wilmington, can have a Board of Appeals with authority to issue a building permit under certain circumstances. This, he reminded his fellow members briefly, is the provision under which the Wilmington selectmen are acting as an appeal board in certain instances.

With references to Sub Divisions, Harding argued that under the sub-division control law a properly constituted board of appeals only has the power to issue a permit for the erection of a building, under cases in which the enforcement of the law would be difficult, or an unnecessary

Harding, several times during the evening, pointed out that Section -1 BB states that only a Planning Board has the right to approve of subdivision control, and that a person who is aggrieved by a decision of a planning board can only go to a Superior Court, sitting in equity. In no place, Harding said, does it say that such a person can go to the Board of Appeals.

You are probably right

Planning Board member Joel Gardiner, an attorney, agreed with Harding, saying "You are probably right - but what do we gain by it?" - (not signing the plan, Ed.)

Harding said that the proponents would then have to come to the Planning Board for their subdivision, and, replying to Gardiner's questions and comments, said that there would be control over the utilities - including the grade - on which there will probably be a long driveway.

Gardiner pointed out that, under subdivision control there would have to be a long road - and possibly, instead of two lots there could be three.

There was some calculation on the cost of road construction at

Wilmington playground notes

Forty Acres

On Wednesday night, July 21, Camp 40 Acres special children's program held its first family night.

The Wilmington Kiwanis Club prepared and served a meal of hamburgers, hotdogs, chips and cake which was enjoyed by the children and their families. In spite of the weather, everyone had a wonderful time visiting the areas and joining in a volleyball game and sing-a-long.

All the campers had a delightful time Monday at Mr. and Mrs. Giroux' pool. They arrived at 9:30 a.m. and spent the entire day swimming.

The children participated in the K of C Olympics on Tuesday when they competed in all the running and field events. Terri Pike and Kevin O'Brien appeared in the finals on Saturday.

The children spent Wednesday and Thursday at Camp 40 Acres doing the usual funfilled things - arts and crafts, archery, riflery, quiet and active games.

A trip to Duncan Beach in New Hampshire was Friday's field trip and the children had a wonderful time swimming and sunning.

Wildwood

Once again the Blub Bomber boys in the younger division of the playground competition were victorious. Led by the brilliant goaltending of Billy Woods and a three goal performance by Dave Deming, the street hockey team for the 6 - 9 year old boys of the Wildwood School won its second straight game in as many weeks. Jill Huebner had two hits for a losing cause for the girls in softball and Lynne Willworth made some fine plays while taking over the catching responsibilities.

On Wednesday the youngsters participated in the Olympic trials held at the high school track. Everything went along as scheduled through the cooperation of the leaders, the children and a little extra effort on the part of Mary Alice Woods.

To finish off the week the playground travelled to Waltham and enjoyed a day filled with roller skating, bowling and miniature golf at the Waller complex.

On Thursday, July 29, a field trip is planned to the North Shore Music Theatre where the children and parents who wish to attend will view "Yankee Doodle Dances." The Wildwood School has only 30 tickets for the show and they will be sold for $1.50 each. Anyone interested in making the trip should speak to Billy, Doria or Judie.

The Halloween in August will take place Wednesday, the fourth of August. All are invited to attend and may enter such contests as donut eating, apple dunking and musical chairs.

Swain

Shawsheen Purple Eaters went to Duncan Beach and had a fine time.

The Shawsheen will participate and attend a performance at the North Shore Music Theatre for a drama field trip. Also in the offing is a horseshoe tournament. Friday, July 30 will see a bike hike to McDonald's for lunch.

Saturday brought all the schools to the High School for the Olympic finals. The Swain Rockys did well and should be congratulated.

Monday the Rockys hosted the Woburn Street. The girls won in street hockey. The Rockys lost a tough game of softball with everyone playing a tight defense.

Tuesday the Italian in everyone came out as everyone ate pizza and tonic from Mancini's. Wednesday the Rockys went to the Woburn Street for a volleyball tournament.

The North Shore Music Theatre was visited on Thursday to see Yankee Doodle Dances. Next week the Rockys head to the Shawsheen for competition and Friday a trip to Canobie Lake is scheduled.

Woburn Street

The Woburn Street Wipeouts came to a close of another exciting week. The annual Police Association Soap Box Derby featured two Woburn Street first place winners - Tommy Allison and Craig Fitzgerald in the seven and eight year old division and Brian Sughrue and Ted Moran in the 11 and 12 year old bracket. Friday, participants made clothespin dolls and decorated them in celebration of the Bicentennial year, and they came out beautifully.

On Monday the Woburn Street boys and girls easily defeated the Wildwood School. The girls won 7-4 in street hockey and 14-6 in softball. Goal scorers for Woburn Street were Michele DiGerolamo with two; Patty Robson with four and Janet Magliozzi with one. All four Wildwood goals were made by Kim Huebner.

The Woburn Street softball hitting attack was led by Diane DeLuca, Michele DiGerolamo and Maria Milano. Wildwood offense was led by Denise Quinn, Barb Barrett and Deidra O'Reilly.

The older boys won in street hockey, 13-3 and 11-5 in softball. The little guys won 7-3 in softball and tied 5-5 in street hockey.

The Woburn Street older boys goals were scored by Ted Moran with three; Mike Moran, Bob Miele and Darrel McDonald with two and John Robson, Bob Perry, Scott Wallace and Tony Ingeneri with one apiece. Billy Barrett got all three for the Wildwood School.

The Woburn Street younger boys goals were scored by Brian Sughrue and Dennis Moran with two and little Tommy Moran who scored the tying goal with only a few seconds left. Wildwood goals were scored by Jay Barrett who pocketed three and Mike Woods who made two.

The Woburn Street hatting attack was led by Craig Richards, Ted Moran, Mike Moran and Scott Wallace. Scott O'Reilly and Billy Barrett led the attack for the Wildwood School. Brian Sughrue scored two home runs; Bob Feeney made one homer and Dennis Moran assisted in leading the little guys to victory. Jay Barrett was the star for the Wildwood.

Tuesday we held out school croquet tourney and the winner for the boys was Craig Richards - for the girls Janet Magliozzi. Craig then went on to win the Simmons Open Croquet Tourney which was held Thursday on the common.

The Duncan Beach field trip was enjoyed by about 40 youngsters. The weather wasn't as good as hoped for, but...

The scavenger hunt was Thursday and Ray Taylor was the overall winner. Friday was Halloween Day, everyone dressed up in their October costumes and visited a haunted house. Cathy did an excellent job getting her house ready.

Tomorrow we will be spending most of the day at Silver Lake. Saturday at 10 will be the K of C Olympic finals, everyone is invited to attend.

Last week the Woburn Street Wipeouts enjoyed a fun afternoon swimming in the Pentecost's pool.

Wednesday they competed in the K of C Olympic trials and did very well with several qualifying for the finals. Thursday the Woburn Street gang travelled to Tewksbury's Fairland where they played miniature golf, raced go-carts and tested their skill in the batting cages.

Friday morning Kevin Mulhally held a tennis clinic for the Woburn Street youth, helping them with forehand and backhand strokes and with their serves. Friday afternoon the Wipeouts tramped to Silver Lake.

Next week features a family cookout on Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. Slides of playground activity will be shown and some skills will be put on by the dramatics director and crew. It is hoped that many parents will attend. Wednesday will see a trip to the Shawsheen Zoo.

North Intermediate

On Friday, July 2, the North playground took 75 youngsters bowling, and a great time was enjoyed. High scorers were:

TOWN CRIER, JULY 29, 1976

Jean Robinson and Chuck McNeil.

Monday the Raiders invaded the Swain playground and took five out of six games. Goal scorers in street hockey for the North included Leanne Washburn, Mary Beth Gentile, Paula Burns, Ed Harding (two), Kevin Smith (five), Ed Olson (three), Keith Ford (two), John Wiberg, Brian MacLellan, Ricky Cairns (two), and David Fuller.

Outstanding in softball were Kevin Smith with two home runs and Gaye Smith with a home run and two singles.

Winners in Tuesday's bingo were Monique St. George, Carolyn Anderson and Missy Elia.

On Wednesday the North had over 60 youngsters go on a trip to Duncan Beach in spite of cloudy skies. Thursday the North's croquet champs, Paula Burns and Brian MacLellan, competed in the annual croquet open and did very well.

Friday was 50's Day with about 50 "cook kids" participating in the festivities. Fifties costume contest winners were Marianne and Margie Campbell, and Mike Newhouse. Fonzie Look Alike winners were Paula Rogers and Kenny Simmons. LaVerne and Shirley winners were Lynn Newhouse and Beth Hezelton.

Friday, July 23, the North will have a rally for the Olympics in the morning and the Mostest Bestest Contest in the afternoon.

Saturday is the Olympic finals at the high school at 10 a.m. Monday, the North plays at the Woburn Street. Tuesday arts and crafts at 1 p.m.; Wednesday, Christmas carolling and pizza party at noon; Thursday drama field trip to North Shore Music Theatre.

On Friday, July 16 the North playground had a 50's Day with everyone dressing up and participating in games and contests. The Shawsheen travelled to the North on Monday for inter-playground games.

At the Olympic trials on Tuesday the North had a fabulous turnout of over 50 tracksters, 32 of whom made the finals (not including the relay teams). Even though it rained on Wednesday, many children showed up for arts and crafts and made sand terrariums.

On Thursday, 54 hungry Raiders invaded McDonald's in Burlington for lunch and enjoyed McDonaldland. Then 48 Raiders went to Silver Lake for the afternoon.

In the afternoon the long-awaited Mostest, Bestest Contest with some 30 participants winning ribbons for crazy things like the hairiest legs; biggest dimples, least cavities, etc.

The Red Raiders did superbly in the Olympic finals on Saturday.

Friday, July 30 will be Christmas at the North. Bubble blowing

Mrs. Bigwood is co-chairman

Mrs. Gerald F. Bigwood of Chestnut St., Wilmington was among the Lahey Clinic Staff Wives who are co-chairmen of the Clinic's Fourth Alumni Reunion Ladies Program Committee who met recently at the Parker House in Boston to discuss the planning for the Ladies Program in Bicentennial Boston to be held October 14-16.

Preliminary plan for Woburn Street housing

A preliminary plan has been filed with the Wilmington Planning Board, for the land adjacent to the Ipswich River in Wilmington on which low and middle income housing was once planned.

The new plan, which is not final, shows planning for 21 houselots.

The Dump Questions

Attorney Busa of Woburn has asked 14 questions, presumably of the town officials, to be discussed tonight in Wilmington's special town meeting. Some, it can be said, are obviously from not understanding the call for bids - which was somewhat complicated.

The question about state approves site - No. 11. What was asked of the bidders was a letter saying that they had a state approved site in Wilmington - if they intended to use a Wilmington dump. Those bidders who were intending to haul Wilmington rubbish to some other site were not asked anything about the site, if it was not in Wilmington.

Admittedly the way the bid read, it was complicated.

Question No. 13 is one that perhaps has some value to it. What will happen to the rubbish collection of and from Wilmington industries?

These collections are, of course, a matter of contract between the person who disposes of the rubbish and the firms involved. But it would be unpleasant if Wilmington industries were forced to pay greater costs because of the changes being made. No one wants such a thing to happen.

There is another question that Attorney Busa did not ask - call it 15.

Where will Wilmington's politicians run for office, if there is no Town Dump? The question is serious. The loss of the dump could be an awful blow.

Tewksbury's Police

It must be remarked that the police in this part of Middlesex County are in general improving. There is more sophistication, and there is more professionalism. The reason, of course, is that the police of Middlesex County have an academy, in Lowell, to which many go, and the classes offered in Northeastern University.

The improvement is to be thankfully noted by citizens and others.

But, Tewksbury's police ran up against men who were even more sophisticated two weeks ago, when three of the men in that department had a heart-to-heart talk with the Tewksbury selectmen. It was obvious from some of the remarks made that some of the Tewksbury police did not understand the ramifications of town government.

Perhaps that is to be expected. Not many persons know about town government today, it is too complicated. It is not the simple thing of which Thomas Jefferson spoke, 200 years ago.

The advice of the chairman of the selectmen, Mr. Boudreau was almost terribly candid, particularly for a town like Tewksbury.

Mr. Boudreau said that the police should "pack" the town meeting if they want something from the town. He was referring to equipment, but the same advice goes for wages, and not only for police personnel, but personnel in all departments.

There are times, for instance, in Wilmington when one could say that the town employees are the major voting factor in the town meeting. Wilmington has a quorum of 150, and more sophisticated voters, by and large, Tewksbury has.

Tewksbury is a town with the peculiar number of zero, for a quorum for a town meeting.

It would be much easier for Tewksbury's police, or Tewksbury's town employees to "pack" the town meeting that it is in Wilmington.

The answer stands out. From the viewpoint of the police - go and do it. From the viewpoint of the citizens - learn a little more - go to the town meeting, and find out how the government is really run.

Otherwise the average citizen will find himself being run by the town employees.

Tennis Club meets August 5

The Wilmington Tennis Club has scheduled an important meeting for Thursday, August 5 at 8 p.m. at Wilmington Memorial Library.

All members are urged to be on hand to discuss the up-coming fall tournament and to establish tournament and banquet committees.

Local Witnesses return from Providence assembly

Members of the Wilmington and Tewksbury Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have returned from the Sacred Service District Assembly held in Providence last weekend. Upward of 100 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses from the Eastern New England area attended the four-day Bible seminar. Elmo Perella, presiding elder of the Wilmington Congregation, said that all who attended were spiritually benefited.

The purpose of the assembly, Mr. Perella said, "was to improve life spiritually within the family circle, to examine social problems in the world and provide concrete solutions from them based on scriptural principles." A highlight of the convention program was the public address by William K. Jackson of the World Headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in New York who addressed the convention delegates on the subject, "Will Serving God Solve Your Problems?"

Several of the members from the Wilmington Congregation shared in the program or volunteered their services, among whom were the following: Paul Genaris in accounting and Charles Matthews in Lost and Found.

Also there were 120 from the many congregations attending who symbolized their dedication to Jehovah by water baptism.

Selectmen hear water complaints

William B. Simmons came to the board of selectmen Tuesday night to voice the complaints of many residents that Tewksbury water is iron-colored with an unappealing odor. The water is in this condition because of the amount of well "flushing" and the erratic water level that has been present in town this summer.

Selectman William Hallisey, (the former water commissioner) suggested that one of the wells be rested. "It is no use putting a well on to gain a half a foot in the reservoir," Hallisey explained.

Hallisey said that filtration centers could be the solution to the dingy water problem. He did remind Simmons, however that filtration plants are "three to four years down the road."

A ground water investigation is currently being undertaken by Dames and Moore. Chairman Norman O. Boudreau explained that until the Domes and Moore study is completed the town will not be sure where the possible filtration centers will be located or whether the town might use the Merrimack River.

The chairman told Simmons that a well cannot be shut up simply because the water is discolored. Emergency situations come first - Boudreau said. Selectman Joe McNeil said that "we are doing the best we can with limited resources."

Little League All Stars bowed to Woburn East

THEY SHOWED A LOT OF CLASS: Wilmington residents may be proud of the Little League Tournament Team, this year. They lost out, in overtime play, but the team had good players, and good hitters.

Front: Pat Pierce, Paul Bova, Randy Cawthron, Larry Merry, Byron Kincaid and Craig Richards.

Rear: George Boudreau, Rusty Ryan, Dan Foley, Ken Marshall, Manager Dan Gentile, Tom Fillio, Mike Moran and Ted Moran.

Missing is Darryl MacDonald and Coach Ralph Lux.

Wilmington's Little League Tournament Team won three games this season, and then lost, on the fourth game with the Woburn Little League East All Stars. The final score was six to five, after an extra inning.

Rusty Ryan pitched the whole game. Rusty was a Yankee player before the tournament season, with a seven and one record.

Rusty walked, and scored, in the first inning of the Woburn East game, on a fielder's choice. Don Foley got on, on an error. Ted Moran followed, with a fine home run (one of two) to make the first inning 3 - 0.

Ted Moran's second homer was in the third inning. Ted is from the Tigers, and hit five homers, during the four tournament games.

Darryl MacDonald, who played for the Twins, with two outs, was hit by a pitched ball, and then Randy Cawthron doubled, and knocked in Darryl, to make Wilmington's last run.

Then, in the seventh inning, with a tie score, with Woburn men on first and second, and two outs, the ball was hit to the outfield. The throw was made to the plate, and the ball hit the runner.

Wilmington's Tournament Season was over.

Wilmington, 3-Wakefield, 2
Wilmington defeated Wakefield last Thursday, at Wakefield, 3 - 2. The highlight of the game was a homer by Ted Moran. Rusty Ryan pitched an excellent game.

Wilmington, 13-Woburn Central, 12
It was a slug fest, Saturday, on the Wilmington field, as the Wilmington team defeated Woburn Central 13 - 12.

The Wilmington pitchers were

Mickey Moran and Tom Fillio. The big hitters were Ted Moran, with his second home run; Darryl MacDonald with a homer and Larry Merry of the Orioles, with the third.

That made a total of 10 home runs, in the two games, Wilmington and Wakefield, and Wilmington and Woburn Central.

In the first inning of the Woburn Central game George Boudreau led off with a walk, and was followed by Larry Merry's homer, for two runs.

The second inning saw another run. Tom Fillio singled, and Rusty Ryan doubled, to be followed by a single for one run by Craig Richards.

The fourth inning had Rusty Ryan with a double, and Paul Bova walked. Darryl MacDonald's homer then provided the three runs.

Ted Moran's homer in the fifth was with the bases empty. It was followed by a double by Mike Moran; a walk by Tom Fillio and three doubles by Rusty Ryan, Paul Bova and Dan Foley. Then there were singles, back to back, by Darryl MacDonald and Pat Pierce. There were seven runs scored by Wilmington in that inning.

Wilmington Pony League

Astros, 5-Wildcats, 4

Neil Wetzler did himself proud in this game. He pitched a three-hitter and lost. He didn't give up a hit until the fourth inning which came after two walks and an error. Even down by four runs, the Wildcats didn't quit. In the seventh inning they loaded the bases and Bill Liston who had three for four for the night singled and the score was tied, 4 - 4.

The Astros with two outs in their half of the seventh singled home the winning run.

Both games were lost by one run. The local boys did a good job each time and have nothing to be ashamed of. Tom Gagnon, two for three; Mark Hurley, two for three; Gary Hastings, Neil Wetzler and Paul Bush all had singles.

This ends the season for the Wildcats. The Reading Astros go on to play the North Reading Red Sox for the championship in a best two of three series.

Lexington Tourney

The Wilmington Pony League will combine the Wildcats and the Mavericks and enter a team in the Lexington Baseball Tournament, which is a one game elimination. If the local boys lose, they are out, if they win, they move on to the next step.

The Lexington Tournament provides fine baseball as all teams are champs of their league, or all star teams.

Those going to Lexington for the July 31 opening game include:

Paul Bush, Bill Liston, George Butters, Todd Richards, Don McLaughlin, Tom Gagnon, Neil Wetzler and Mark Hurley from the Wildcats and Steve Woods, Chris Nolan, Rich and Steve Scanlon, Mike Martin, Fred Olshaw and Dave Sughrue.

The team will be managed by Dick Scanlon and coached by Dan Hurley.

A photograph of what was possibly the Wilmington High School varsity team, of 1905. The year is not certain, but the photo was taken on Wilmington Common, with the Roman House and barn in the background. None of the players can be identified, but the Manager, (with derby, of course) is possibly Harold Eames. Ed Nelson Eames, Harold's father, took the photo.

Hundreds register for Safety Town

Reservations are pouring in for the sixth annual Safety Town, a unique program to be presented August 16 - 20 and 23 - 27 by the Burlington Mall Merchants' Association for the purpose of teaching youngsters who will be entering school for the first time this fall how to face common traffic problems and hazards of the highways as pedestrians and drivers of bicycles and tiny pedal-type cars and have fun doing it.

The town, complete with miniature schools, churches, etc. and streets, sidewalks, trees and railroad crossings is presently under construction on a permanent site near the Sears Car Center at Burlington Mall.

Officer Russell Peterson, safety officer of the Burlington Police Department, will supervise the program which is free of charge and consists of one hour sessions at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Monday through Friday. Class sizes will be limited to 20 youngsters with additional classes scheduled throughout the two week period to fill the demand.

This is the sixth season for Safety Town which received state-wide recognition for its unique approach to safety and graduated more than 500 youngsters last year.

Parents are advised to register their youngsters as soon as possible as registration is on a first come, first served basis by calling the Burlington Mall office at 272-5833.

The Recreation Department has extended its thanks to Grand Knight Jim MacMullin and all of the members of the K of C for their continued support of the youth of Wilmington.

Wilmington Lions have summer guests

Helene Haquin learned about lobsters, last Saturday afternoon. She liked the lesson so well that she had two, at the Wilmington Lions Club picnic, down on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph App.

Helene is tall and blonde, and has a passable knowledge of the English language. She comes from Creil, in France, and is the house guest of Lillian and Carlos Francella, on Boutwell Street. Both Carlos and Lillian speak French fluently, which, depending on the viewpoint, may be good or bad for Helene.

Helene is one of five guests the Wilmington Lions are hosting this summer. Those Lions are going all out, in entertaining students from other climes, this year.

Two of their students are from France; one is from Italy; and two are from the state of Iowa. All were introduced to lobsters, Saturday afternoon, and the Iowa girls didn't like it.

Somehow, the idea of looking at a lobster, and then eating it was repugnant to the two girls. In fact they were more unhappy when they learned that the way to cook a lobster is to put it into a kettle full of boiling water. That, to the young ladies, seemed cruel.

Because there was extra lobster Helen was able to have two. She had a little difficulty at first, in cracking the shells, but Jeannette Davidson of Salem Street Wilmington showed Helene how it is done, and then Helene got on famously.

Claudia Blakely comes from Dumont, Iowa, and is the guest of Joan and Brian Riddle of South Street, Tewksbury.

Dawn Morris comes from Clear Lake, Iowa, and is the guest of Karen and Walter Godfrey, and Walter's sister, Jeannette Davidson, all of Salem Street, Wilmington.

Sergio Spreafico is from Sorcinno, which is near Milan, in Italy. He has already been in the United States for a few months, attending college in New York, and hopes to go to Detroit, where he intends to study aerodynamics.

Sergio is staying with Sheila and Mario DeLeo of Salem Street.

Ludovic Cardon is from LeHavre, that great seaport at the mouth of the Seine, in France. He is the house guest of Pat and Joe Robarge, on Cunningham Street. Joe is of Canadian ancestry, and possibly he speaks French. In any event Ludovic gets along pretty well.

One of the surprises though involves Ludovic and Mrs. Francella. Lillian Francella comes from the town of Marly le Roi, which is near Versailles, in France.

Some years ago, while she was living in Marly le Roi, who lived in the same town, across the street? Ludovic Cardon, now of LeHarve and Salem Street, North Wilmington.

Columbian Squires athletic program

The Columbian Squires of the Father Sullivan Circle in Tewksbury are planning an athletic program with four basketball teams, this year. Hopefully they hope to be able to have the use of school facilities, as was the case last year. Competition will be with the members of other Circles, and possibly to accept and invite games with other groups.

The Squires are also considering the possibilities of a Track Squad. This idea is under discussion.

There is to be an open house, at a date still undecided, for prospective members and their parents, sometime in the near future. The installation of officers will be on the same evening as the installation of the officers of the K of C Lodge.

The only meeting for the latter part of the summer is to be on August 4th, a Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m.

Chris found the caucuses to be most exciting

Chris Briand of Jordan Road, Wilmington found the caucuses of the Democratic National Convention to be the most exciting part, and perhaps the Women's Caucus to vote on the rules report to be the most exciting of all.

Everything else at the Democratic Convention was sort of a foregone conclusion. The only thing with which the delegates had anything to do was the rules report, on Thursday, and Chris was happy to be able to hear from the minority report, before it got to the floor. That, to her was the most exciting part of the convention.

The Caucuses began on Tuesday. The majority report on the Women's Caucus had said it would "encourage equal participation." This was not acceptable to the women's group, and the women delegates. It was, of course referring to the 1980 convention.

Thirty-seven per cent of the delegates were women, and 63 per cent men. The women felt that there should be more equal representation. Betty Fridan, Shirley Chisholm and Gloria Steinem were among those who voiced viewpoints. Chris, a voting delegate, was among those who listened.

There was eventually a compromise, when the women's leaders and the workers from the Carter team got together, which, Chris says, was acceptable. The compromise was one that would start immediately, to see that there was equal representation, and that the DNC (Democratic National Committee) would appropriate money for this purpose.

The Massachusetts vote, of course, was the exciting part to people who were watching from this Commonwealth, via TV. Somehow, nothing happened. "What did you people do down there?" is the question that has been popped at Chris, ever since she returned home.

Massachusetts had 104 delegates. Twenty-one of these,

Chris included, were committed to vote for Udall for president.

Somehow, the roll call vote, on the floor, came to a total of 107 votes. That was sort of loading the basket. What had happened was that the chairman did not have his tally sheets with him, at the time.

So the chairman passed, and went around to the head of the delegations - the Massachusetts people who represented Carter - Udall Jackson, etc. Then he came up with a total in which the addition was correct - but this was the only vote that Massachusetts was able to cast in the convention.

The second most exciting part, Chris says, was to listen to Barbara Jordan giving her Keynote Speech. She was really good. Chris never did get a chance to meet Barbara, but it is possible that Barbara will be in the area next February, when she may speak at the Lowell Bicentennial celebration.

Of course people whom Chris did meet included a lot of personalities from the press, and the delegation whips from the various candidates. The press was the best part, Chris says. She was photographed with Warren Beatty, the movie star, and she had a meeting with Johnny Apple of the New York Times - in an elevator.

She also met Abe Beame in an elevator - a different elevator. No, the elevators did not get stuck.

There were a lot of parties going on - almost all of the time. Tip O'Neil had a midnight breakfast, one day, at the hotel at which Chris was staying. It was loaded with celebrities - in fact it was just mobbed, Chris says.

So who did Chris vote for? She was pledged to vote for Udall, and she did - the only time she had a chance to cast a ballot, to use a phrase. After the Carter victory was apparent some of the Massachusetts delegates went up privately and changed their votes - but Chris didn't.

Record earnings by Dynamics Research

Dynamics Research Corporation of Concord Street, Wilmington has reported a first half net income of $333,100, or 75 cents a share. This compares with $101,700 or 23 cents a share, for the same period in 1975. The total revenues for the 24 weeks ending on June 12 were $6,854,500, versus $5,284,600 in the same period in 1975.

The company is a manufacturer of precision measuring instruments and a supplier of technical management information services. John S. Anderegg Jr., president, said there is a continuing strong demand for all of the company's products.

The shipments of encoders and micrographic products have risen dramatically, he reports and the renewals on computer and engineering analysis contracts have kept that area of their business strong. Anderegg anticipates that sales and earnings for the year will be substantially ahead of 1975.

Wilmington Minutemen and the Pine Tree Shilling

During the past week there has been comment, from TV and other sources about the Pine Tree Shilling, which was a coin minted by the colonists of Massachusetts Bay in 1652.

The purpose of the coin was to overcome the shortage of currency. England has just gone through a Civil War. Cromwell was in power, but not yet with the strength he was to achieve later.

There was, it must be emphasized, no Royal Government. The Boston media, almost without exception, credited the coin as a rebellion against the crown - which just wasn't the facts of the case.

Wilmington's Company of Minutemen uses a replica of the Pine Tree Shilling as a means of identification.

When a recruit joined the King's Army he was given a shilling, by the recruiting sergeant. That made the recruitment official.

When a man becomes a Wilmington Minuteman, then he is given a Pine Tree Shilling. That gives his wife a chance to talk about Women's Rights.

Board of Appeals

(From Fr. Page)

this point in the discussion. It seemed to say that the owner of the land, if he had three lots, would not make any extra financial gain than if he sold just the one lot as it had been before the appeal board decision.

Cul de sac division

Harding said he had no particular argument with the division of a lot of land such as the one on Middlesex Avenue, if it were located at the end of a cul de sac. What he was objecting to was such a division, on a main highway.

He was thinking of the possibilities of accidents.

"If I were a smart lawyer," he said, "I would buy that house (opposite Federal Street) and sit on the front porch!"

Default approval?

Long after the discussions had started the planning board arrived at a point in which it agreed it would not sign the plan - and then it would have to go to the Town Clerk.

After 14 days in the Town Clerk's office, they then noted, the clerk shall deem that approval is not required, and make such a statement. In other words, the planning board noted it will be a case, on or about August 10 of "approval by default." That, they decided, would not do.

Joel Gardiner made another motion, about the 10th or 12th that the board had considered, so far into the evening. The motion this time was to reconsider the vote not to sign. Harding very happily seconded it.

Chairman Lou Maglio didn't like the vote either. "We're going to get sued - going to court!"

Finally, there was a vote on which all could agree. It was on a still later motion, and they agreed to have a vote on whether or not the plan required approval.

If the plan was voted not to require approval they would be, in effect approving of the division as the appeal board had made it. This, the final vote, was the result.

The vote was three to two. Arthur Harding was still adamant, and voted Yes. He was joined, in the final vote, by Bill Hooper.

The plan was signed at 10:18 p.m. - one hour and 50 minutes after the argument started - but not by Harding nor Hooper.
